NUMBER 24.

McCLELLAN AND WASHINGTON CITY.

Presentation of Complimentary Resolutions.

Pursuant to announcement, the deputation of citizens of Washington charged with the duty of presenting to Major General McClellan a copy of complimentary resolutions adopted by the Common Council of that city waited upon the distinguished officer at a late hour on the 14th instant, at his residence in West Thirty-first street, and formally made the presentation, to which Gen. McClellan made the following response:

Gen. McClellan, in reply, stated that it was with unusual pride and satisfaction that he received this token of the confidence and esteem of the Common Council and citizens of Washington, not only because it is the capital of the nation, but because its people were the first thrown into the path of this civil war, and the first to encounter its dangers. Had your people, said he, not been loyal, then our capital would have been gone forever. History would do them justice for their noble conduct in this crisis of the country. But he hoped no necessity would ever arise to question the loyalty of the people of Washington. Their fidelity to the Union was too well known to permit any one to doubt it for an instant. It was true that he (Gen. McClellan) had once found Washington threatened by armed rebels and in danger of being captured. He took very little credit to himself, so far as related to the saving of the national capital from destruction. Whatever was done at that time was due to the noble army which he had the honor to command. To them it was due, and he knew they would feel themselves well rewarded in knowing that those who were most interested in saving Washington from the enemy were satisfied with their conduct. He felt doubly honored that so many respectable citizens of Washington had taken the trouble to come such a long distance for the purpose of presenting him with such a complimentary testimonial, and he begged them to receive his most heartfelt thanks, and also to convey to the people of Washington the assurance of his appreciation of this token of their esteem and confidence. In conclusion, he hoped that the fortunes of war would never again render it necessary that he should be called to the defense of Washington against the assaults of an invading army, either foreign or domestic.

The short speech of the General was listened to with the profoundest attention, and not until he concluded the last syllable did his audience indulge in the slightest demonstration of applause.

Gov. Tod's Letter on Negro Enlistments in Ohio.

The Ohio State Journal of Monday last contains the following letter from Governor Tod addressed to J. M. Langston, a "colored gentleman":

THE STATE OF OHIO,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
COLUMBUS, May 16.

John M. Langston, Esq., Present:

Referring to our conversation of last evening, I have now to repeat:

1st. That the Government is desirous to obtain all the colored troops that can be raised.

2d. That the pay, bounty, clothing and terms of enlistment will be the same for colored troops as for white troops.

3d. That authority has been given by the Government to Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts, to recruit colored men for the Massachusetts brigade from all the loyal States.

4th. That, as it is uncertain what number of colored men could be promptly raised in Ohio, I have advised and still do advise that those disposed to enter the service, promptly join the Massachusetts regiments—thus securing to the Government the services of colored men much earlier than if the attempt were made to get up regiments in each loyal State.

Having requested the Governor of Massachusetts to organize the colored men from Ohio into separate companies, as far as practicable, and also to keep me fully advised of the number, with the name, age, and place of residence of each, Ohio will have the full benefit of all enlistments from the State, and the recruits themselves the benefit of State association to the same extent, nearly as if organized into a State regiment. In addition to the benefit before recited, I believe that the State of Massachusetts pays an extra bounty of $50 to each recruit who may join the Massachusetts brigade. No such provision is made by the laws of Ohio.

I am glad to know that you are devoting your best energies to the work of raising troops for this brigade, and trust your efforts may prove highly successful.

Herewith I hand you a copy of a letter to Gov. Andrew on the subject in hand; also copy of a letter recently received from Gen. D. Hunter, from Hilton Head, highly commending the conduct of your countrymen who are under his command, which you are at liberty to make such use of as you may see proper.

Yours, etc.,
DAVID TOD, Governor.

There is but one way to correct the evils under which the country is now suffering, and that is through the ballot-box. The men who want reform and reunion must vote for it.

"Patriotism" depends upon how you spell it, whether you can praise the article or not. "Patriotism" is a way of majority of men should write the word.

The Conscription Law--Physical Causes of Exemption.

The instructions for Provost Marshals and other officers under the conscription law are about to be issued by the War Department. The following is an extract from the regulations in regard to exemptions:

85. The following diseases and infirmities are those which disqualify for military service, and for which only, drafted men are to be "rejected as physically or mentally unfit for the service," viz:

1. Manifest imbecility or insanity.

2. Epilepsy. For this disability the statement of the drafted man is insufficient, and the fact must be established by the duly attested affidavit of a physician, of good standing, who has attended him in a convulsion.

3. Paralysis, general or of one limb, or chorea; their existence to be adequately determined.

4. Acute or organic disease of the brain or spinal cord; of the heart or lungs; of the stomach or intestines; of the liver or spleen; of the kidneys or bladder, sufficient to have impaired the general health, or so well marked as to leave no reasonable doubt of the man's incapacity for military service.

5. Confirmed consumption; cancer; aneurism of the large arteries.

6. Incurable and extensive disease of the skin, which will necessarily impair his efficiency as a soldier.

7. Decided feebleness of constitution, whether natural or acquired.

8. Scrofula or constitutional syphilis, which has resisted treatment and seriously impaired his general health.

9. Habitual and confirmed intemperance or solitary vice, in degree sufficient to have materially enfeebled the constitution.

10. Chronic rheumatism, unless manifested by positive change of structure, wasting of the affected limb, or puffiness or distortion of the joints and contraction of the limbs, alleged to arise from rheumatism, and in which the nutrition of the limb is not manifestly impaired, are to be proved by examination while in a state of anesthesia, induced by ether only.

11. Pain, whether simulating headache, neuralgia in any of its forms, rheumatism, lumbago, or affections of the muscles, bones or joints, is a symptom of disease so easily pretended that it is not to be admitted as a cause for exemption, unless accompanied by manifest derangement of the general health, wasting of a limb, or other positive signs of disqualifying local disease.

12. Great injuries or diseases of the skull, occasioning impairment of the intellectual faculties, epilepsy or other manifest nervous or spasmodic symptoms.

13. Total loss of sight; loss of sight of right eye; cataract; loss of crystalline lens of right eye.

14. Other serious diseases of the eye affecting its integrity and use, e. g. chronic ophthalmia, fistula lachrymalis, ptosis (if real), ectropion, entropion, etc. Myopia, unless very decided or depending upon some structural change in the eye, is not a cause for exemption.

15. Loss of nose; deformity of nose so great as seriously to obstruct respiration; ozena, dependent upon caries in progress.

16. Complete deafness. This disability must not be admitted on the mere statement of the drafted man, but must be proved by the existence of positive disease, or by other satisfactory evidence. Parient otitis.

17. Caries of the superior or inferior maxilla of the nasal or palate bones, if in progress; left palate (bony); extensive loss of substance of the cheeks, or salivary fistula.

18. Dumbness; permanent loss of voice; not to be admitted without clear and satisfactory proof.

19. Total loss of tongue; mutilation or partial loss of tongue, provided the mutilation be extensive enough to interfere with the necessary use of the organ.

20. Hypertrophy or atrophy of the tongue, sufficient in a degree to impair speech or deglutition; obstinate chronic ulceration of the tongue.

21. Stammering, if excessive and confirmed; to be established by satisfactory evidence, under oath.

22. Loss of a sufficient number of teeth to prevent proper mastication of food and tearing the cartridge.

23. Incurable deformities or loss of part of either jaw, hindering biting of the cartridge or proper mastication, or greatly injuring speech; anchylosis of lower jaw.

24. Tumors of the neck, impeding respiration or deglutition; fistula or larynx or trachea; torticollis, if of long standing and well marked.

25. Deformity of the chest sufficient to impede respiration, or to prevent the carrying of arms and military equipments; caries of the ribs.

26. Deficient amplitude and power of expansion of chest. A man five feet three inches (minimum standard height for the regular army) should not measure less than thirty inches in circumference immediately above the nipples, and have an expansive mobility of not less than two inches.

27. Abdomen grossly protuberant; excessive obesity; hernia, either inguinal or femoral.

28. Artificial anus; stricture of the rectum; proflapsus ani. Fistula in ano is not a positive disqualification, but may be so if extensive or complicated with venereal disease.

29. Old and ulcerated internal hemorrhoids, if in degree sufficient to impair the man's efficiency. External hemorrhoids are no cause for exemption.

30. Total loss or nearly total loss of penis; epispadias or hypospadias at the middle or near the root of the penis.

31. Incurable permanent organic

stricture of the urethra, in which the urine is passed drop by drop, or which is complicated by disease of the bladder; urinary fistula. Recent or spasmodic stricture of the urethra does not exempt.

32. In consequence of urine, being a disease frequently feigned and of rare occurrence, is not of itself a cause for exemption. Stone in the bladder, ascertained by the introduction of the metallic catheter, is a positive disqualification.

33. Loss or complete atrophy of both testicles from any cause; permanent retention of one or both testicles within the inguinal canal; but voluntary retraction does not exempt.

34. Confirmed or malignant sarcocele; hydrocele, if complicated with organic diseases of the testicle. Varicocele and cricocele are not, in themselves, disqualifying.

35. Excessive exterior or posterior curvature of the spine; caries of the spine.

36. Wounds, fractures, tumors, atrophy of a limb, or chronic diseases of the joints or bones, that would impede marching or prevent continuous muscular exertion.

37. Anchylosis or irreducible dislocation of the shoulder, elbow, wrist, hip, knee, or ankle joint.

38. Muscular or entaneous contractions from wounds or burns, in degree sufficient to prevent useful motion of a limb.

39. Total loss of a thumb; loss of ungual phalanx of right thumb.

40. Total loss of two fingers of same hand.

41. Total loss of index finger of right hand.

42. Loss of the first and second phalanges of the fingers of the right hand.

43. Permanent extension or permanent contraction of any finger except the little finger; all the fingers adherent or united.

44. Total loss of either great toe; loss of any three toes on the same foot; all the toes joined together.

45. The great toe crossing the other toes with great prominence of the articulation of the metatarsal bone of the first phalanx of the great toe.

46. Overriding or superposition of all the toes.

47. Permanent retraction of the last phalanx of one of the toes, so that the free border of the nails bears upon the ground; or flexion at a right angle of the first phalanx of a toe upon a second, with anchylosis of this articulation.

48. Club feet; spay feet, where the arch is so far affected that the tuberosity of the scaphoid bone touches the ground, and the line of station runs along the whole internal border of the foot, and with great prominence of the inner angle; but ordinarily large, ill-shaped or flat feet do not exempt.

49. Varicose veins of inferior extremities, if large and numerous, having clusters of knots, and accompanied with chronic swelling or ulcerations.

50. Chronic clebs; extensive, deep, and adherent clebs of lower extremities.

51. No certificate of a physician or surgeon is to be received in support of any point in the claim of drafted men for exemption from military service, unless the facts and statements therein set forth are affirmed or sworn to before a civil magistrate competent to administer oaths.

52. The exemptions under the first provision of section 34, of the act for enrolling and calling out the national forces, etc., will generally be sufficiently well known to the board to obviate the necessity of evidence with regard to them. Should, however, the board consider it necessary in any case, the commission or certificate of office of any person claiming exemption under the provision mentioned may be required to be shown.

53. To establish exemption under the second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth provisions of section 34 of the act, for enrolling and calling out the national forces, etc., the board shall require the affidavits of the persons seeking to be exempt and of two respectable men (heads of families) residing in the district, that the man in question is "the only son liable to military duty of a widow dependent on his labor or support," "the only son of aged or infirm parent or parents dependent on his labors for support," or otherwise according to the particular provisions of the section under which the exemption is claimed. These affidavits will be made according to the forms hereinafter prescribed, and must in all cases be taken before a civil magistrate duly authorized to administer oaths. These forms of affidavit shall be published by the board of enrollment in the newspapers of the district for the information of the public, when a draft is ordered.

54. To establish exemption under the seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh, twenty-eighth, twenty-ninth, thirtieth, thirty-first, thirty-second, thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth,
